The Parson's Chair

Three Top Rails + Three Arm Options + Six Leg Choices equals endless possibilities!

Designing the perfect Parson's chair for your application is simple. First, choose between the arm and side chair frames. If you need an armchair, you can select from three different arms, ranging from the gently unfolding upholstered scroll, to the dramatically sculpted exposed wood arm. Then you can choose from three different top rails for your design. Finally, complete your chair by selecting any of six different corner legs.

The look of your chair is bound only by your imagination. By choosing from a variety of arms, top rails, and corner legs, you have the ability to literally create the exact chair you need. We have pictured several example configurations. With all the options available, there are over 72 possible combinations.

Please visit our Interactive Parson's Chair Design Center at www.chervan.com. Here you will be able to create your own unique design and see a sample picture to confirm your choices.

Take control of your next project. Create your next masterpiece!

Chervan's Wood Components

Though Chervan's specialty is the creation of superb chair frames, we also apply our woodworking skills to the creation of a wide array of components. This offering contains an array of new components as well as a number of new upholstery supply products offered to help you conveniently configure your new seating creation.

The same design quality and care used to produce our frames is applied to the production of the wood components offered below. Each piece is domestically produced from Northern soft maple. This beautiful species is chosen for its fine surface finish, acceptance of virtually any stain or finish, even color and grain, and exceptional durability.

The components shown here are in a uniform finish simply to aid in the photography and to remain consistent with our main catalog line which details our complete frame collection. However, Chervan only offers the components as unfinished wood, sanded to a 120-grit surface finish.

All items are stocked and available for quick shipment. As always, we guarantee your satisfaction with our products and our service.
